THE deputy commissioner of immigration at New York, in his annual report, says:

"It is my earnest conviction that a large proportion of the aliens deported as coming in violation of the alien contract labor law, were of the very best class of aliens coming here. I further believe that their deportations were of no benefit to the American workingman, and, in fact, worked to his disad-

This shows that the deputy has at leas common sense. Owing to the practical abolition of the good old apprentice system, there are comparatively few skill ed workmen in this country now, except those who come here from abroad, who are brought up to their respective trades, and the deportation of such men, while hundreds of thousands of unskilled laborers are imported with impunity, shows a sad deficiency of common sense on the part of the men who passed and who execute the unwise and cruel law referred to.

WHEN Mr. Cleveland was President, men in the public service were removed from office for making one democratic speech, and that, too, at their own homes and after office hours. Mr. Cleveland was a civil service reformer; so is Mr. McKinley, but under the latter, all the officials of the government, at all times and in all seasons, are actively engaged in republican politics; not only those in this country, but also those aboard, Mr. White, the American minister at Berlin, even writing letters to be read at republican meetings in New York, extolling Mr. Mc-Kinley and advocating his re-election. The difference between now and then is never more apparent than in politics.

looting is practiced by the U. S. army in the East. But to such an extent has looting been carried by the small American army in China, that General Wilson has issued orders for its officers and men in surrender all articles secured by them to Pekin which they did not purchase. The sale of confiscated loot is now going on and the proceeds will be used for municipal purposes. General Wilson is on the spot, but the Sun is in New York.

Correspondence of the Alexandria Gasette. Washington, September 29.

Minister Wu has received advices to the effect that the Chiuese viceroys have signed a memorial and presented it to the Emperor denouncing the per-petrators of the anti-foreign riots. "My informant does not name the man or men simed at in the memorial," said Mr. Wu, "nor does he state what action has been taken in the matter." Minister Wu believes that China's sole hope is meditation by the United States. If the administration would prefer to be officially requested to act, Minister Wu save he would pledge himself to secure the Emperor's petition asking for Presi dent McKinley's good offices. "The United States should be more than willing to act, not for humane reasons or friendship for China alone," said Mr. Wu, "but to protect its commercial iuterests which are seriously threat ened if China is dismembered." Minister Wu believes that if the United States would take the initiative Great Britain and Japan would at once follow suit, France and tiative Russia would soon coime in and Germany, finding herself isolated in her revengeful territory grabbing plans, would be forced to desist. Minister Wu intimates that he has presented these views to Li Hung Chang and is awaiting an answer to the same. Regarding the demands of Germany for the sur render of the anti-foreign ringleaders and the immediate return of the Emperor to Pekin he says the conditions are impossible of fulfillment. As long as the troops hold Pekin, it is not at all ikely that the Empeor and Empress Downger will return. The members of the imperial household are very suspicious of foreigners and until they are assured of their safety by their own advisors they will never return to the cap-

IN TROUBLE AGAIN.

Detectives Muller and Baur of Washington yesterday arrested and locked Republican bettors here have ceased up at No. 1 station Geo. A. Fowle, thirty-three years old, an insurance agent, who is charged with obtaining money under false pretences from Mahlon A. Winter, of the M. A. Winter Company, ealers in patent medicines at 329 Penn sylvania avenue northwest Washing The amount involved is $117 and was obtained, it is said, on four alleged fraudulent fire insurance policies Fowle admits transactions with Winter, out denies any intent to defraud. He laims the policies in question were obained by him from a man whose name ne refuses to divulge. At a late hour last night Fowle had not been able to According to the allegations of Mr.

Winter he paid Fowle on May 3, $16 50; on July 7, $48, and on July 30, $40 and $12, those being the amounts of the pre-miums on the four fire insurance poliies. Other policies it is said, were negotiated for and would have been devered had not Winter learned that he original four policies were alledge obe fraudulent. When arrested Fowle ad in his possession three policies which were to have been delivered to the Winter Company yesterday or to lay. The policies were for different amounts and the premiums on them ggragated $175.

It is said that some of the polici handled by Fowle purported to have been issued though Frank G. Fardon. an insurance agent at 1405 F street. Washington. To the detectives Fardon s said to have stated that the policies were stolen from his office.

Fowle and Fardon were at one tim sociated in the insurance business in Washington and Baltimore. Both were arrested about one year ago, charged with fraudulectly using the mails in connection with what was alleged to have been a bogus insurance company. Later they were indicted in Baltimore and Senator McComas, of Maryland, appeared as counsel for them. Senator McComes demurred to the indictmen against his clients and the demurrer was sustained, with the result that he accused were again indicted. said that the case never was brought to trial and is still in the Baltimore courts.

Fowle gained considerable notoriety about two years ago through a divorc suit and a shooting affair in Mount Pleasant. The latter incident followed the former. Fowle was the defendant n a divorce suit brought by his wife and was named as the co-respondent in suit filed by James F. Horab against nis wife, Ada F. Horah. Both divorces were granted and some time later the newspapers printed an announcement to the effect that Fowle and Mrs. Ho rah were married in Philadelphia Fowle subsequently repudiated the marriage and separated from the wom-

n he was said to have made his wife. Prior to the announcement of the marriage Fowle figured in the shooting ffair which almost resulted fatally Fowle and a companion called at the nome of the mother of Mrs. Horah in Mount Pleasant and unexpectedly me Mr. Horab. A difficulty arose, during which Mr. Horab shot Fowle, inflicting what was then thought to be a morta wound. Fowle was under treatment a the Emergency Hospital, in Washington, for seven weeks, and his recovery was considered almost miraculous. For awhile after leaving the hospita Fowle continued in the insurance business in Washington. After his arrest. however, he was thought to have been looking out for property interests. It was recently announced that he was en gaged to be married to a young beiress of Newcastle, Pa. According to Fowle, the marriage was to be solemnized in in the fall. When asked how he would be able to marry in the fall with a wife now living, Fowle again denied that he had ever married Mrs. Horah. It is said that Dr. A. P. Fardon, fath er of Frank G. Fardon, claims that about three months ago three insurance policies were stolen from his office. Dr Fardon's son was associated with him n business, it was said, and Fowle was in the office. Frank Fardon is said to have left Washington yesterday afternoon on urgent business.

Japanese answer to the German note is said here, is opposite to that of the United States. Japan not only has ac cepted without reservation the German proposition, it is stated, but has refused all peace negotistions with China, on the ground that there is no government in that country which can be recognized. Japan's governmental crisis be ing imminent, these declarations have only a problematic value. Herr von Brandt, former German minister to China, bas an article in the Deutsche Revue, in which he says that the missionaries caused the anti foreign uprising by persisting in mingling in political affairs and seeking to gain political influence.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazettes I notice in the card of his honor, the Mayor, that in his "moment of trespass" to his numerous friends, well wishers and fellow citizens (an article of one and one-third columns), that he includes among those who he thinks does not, and did not, conduct the affairs of the city according to his ideas those of his predecessors, meny of whom have passed away and have no one to protect their good names. There are some survivors however, and as one of them, I think it would be well for the public to know under whose administration the "blackmail tribute was exacted," and the men behind liquor bars were required to "Help the Blind," and respectfully ask that he name and publish the same.

PUBLICITY THE AIM.-Publicity is what every business man of experience considers necessary to success. It is the aim of every enterprising merchant, manufacturer, agent or professional man to be so well known that his name will occur to people when they contemplate the purchase of anything in his line, It has been proved again and again that newspaper advertising is the most effective means of achieving publicity.
